1	We like homework to reinforce basic facts, reading and spelling but with offering our children so many after school opportunities feel anything over and beyond this unmanageable. We don't have time to complete the Chasers because of this and are pleased they aren't compulsory.	5/8/2018 8:02 PM
2	As they get older. But when young I thi their playtime is just as important so prefer they spend time outside after school rather than working on school work	5/8/2018 4:32 PM
3	I think too much homework is counter-productive. I would be happy with just maths basic facts e.g. times tables. Nothing fancy - a workbook of times tables where the kids need to do a set of questions three times a week. Then if they have a busy after school day or two they can still fit it in and not be anti! Don't see much value in making them write a reading log if they are reading anyway.	5/8/2018 1:07 PM
4	If there told to...sure as it's showing respect to there Teacher other wise if it was up to me l'd do away with homework as we need the balance of time to teach them our own family values ??	5/7/2018 7:10 PM
5	It helps us connect with they are doing in class as often related ie maths	5/7/2018 3:54 PM

3	Never brings any home	5/8/2018 7:25 PM
4	Keep it simple, learn spelling words by practice, not by being asked to write the words in squiggly writing or in a pyramid shape (R2 homework this year). If the kids know their words, surely that's enough.	5/8/2018 1:07 PM

4	We believe that all parents need to do their bit for the children and staff within the school. That means the PTA are not solely responsible to fundraise on their own but rather a group of parents who help facilitate events with a high level of support from non committee members. There needs to be more accountability or we establish a "PTA fee" for those who never contribute.	5/8/2018 8:02 PM

12      Playground!!! Great 1st impression when kids visit the school it can help them sway there parents if they've got options! And yes it costs a lot of $$ but we just need to do some big fundraisers and parents not need be afraid big or small fundraisers still a lot of effort goes in either way, so big $$ we can do more with which will add more value to the school, hence more pupils hence more funding ??

13	We think that a school hall/gymnasium would be fantastic. It would allow for the library to move into the current "hall" and an extra teaching space/classroom to be set up in the current library to allow for the expanding roll and to keep teacher/children ratios low. In the hall/gym there could be a resource room added to decongest the current storage space. Also extend the current wood chipped playground area with new equipment and increase the space for the children to play in the winter months that does not get muddy.	5/8/2018 8:02 PM
14	Keep expanded the playground	5/8/2018 4:32 PM
15	Continue to provide a welcoming, caring environment for students to learn. Have the kids strive and be rewarded for academic excellence as well as providing support for those who need it.	5/8/2018 1:07 PM

17	Playground	5/7/2018 9:23 PM
18	Just push hard for big changes/improvements whatever they maybe schools have sometimes the tendencies to draw these things out I say let's just make it happen let's do this! No mucking around be known as the proactive school ????????	5/7/2018 7:10 PM
19	Continue the fantastic learning these children are getting and keep giving opportunities when they arise so our children can take advantage of it.	5/7/2018 6:42 PM
20	Building upgrade actually happen. Continuation of what's happening now. The children are happy, they are very polite when out and about and they want to go to school - That says it all.	5/7/2018 3:54 PM
